

35 years

2 May, 2022

35 years today, which means Mary and I have been married longer than I lived before (actually together more like 36 years). This pic was taken by my brother Pat during a visit to the Underground Gardens in Fresno, where we were first together and got married. The bodies have been modified over time but the joy is undiminished. It's easy these days to go all Eeyore about the times in which we're living but the fact is my life has been pretty good. And this partnership is the primary reason that is so.
